RUSSIA MUST BE READY. Attache at Legation in Copenhagen Urger Reorganization of the Army.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. COPENHAGEN. Sept. 1 .- In an interview Col. Alexieff, Military Attaché of the Rus sian Legation here, said it was necessary to submit to peace.

The principal thing for Russia now the reorganization of her army, which, no doubt, will be done with the greatest energy, as it may be doubtful if peace is permanent. The future will show either an alliance or war between Russia and Japan.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SCN. CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 1.—Deep dis-appointment is felt here that Russia was not forced to pay a heavy indemnity to Japan. It is feared that she will soon recover and devote her energies to securing an outlet through Asia Minor.

DR. SEAMAN SAYS THAT SHE HAS GREAT PLANS AFOOT.

Has Sent an Emissary to America to Suggest That We Found Scholarships for Chinese With the Boxer Indemnity -She Has New Army Plans, Also.

There has been added to Mark Twain's another discordant note in the chorus of raise of the peace of Portsmouth. It has been sounded by Dr. Louis L. Seaman, who has just got home from a visit to Manchuria, where he saw both the Japanese and Russian armies at the front. He had somthing to say yesterday at his home, Twenty-eighth street and Fifth avenue, not only about peace but of the awakening and modernizing of the Chinese Empire.

"The so-called peace of Portsmouth, said Dr. Seaman, "will, in my opinion, come to be regarded as one of the great mistakes of the century. That which is called peace will be, in my opinion, only a prolonged armistice. I have been fairly near the firing line of both the Japanese and Russian armies and I believe I know something of the temper of the men who have fought this war. I know something of the spirit of the house of Romanoff, of its nobles and of the Russian people. I have a more intimate acquaintance with the temper of the people of Japan, and I tell you that the so-called peace of Portsmouth is welcomed neither in St. Petersburg nor Tokio.

"There are several good reasons why the peace treaty which is now being written can only be a prolonged armistice. In the first place. Russia-she is still one of the great nations of the earth-will never consent to be bottled up and will never be satisfied until she has regained the prestige and the territory which she has lost in this

"Furthermore, and I fear it is not generally known to my countrymen, Russia is a most fertile territory. Acre on acre and Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent, mile on mile of the soil of the empire needs the congratulatory telegrams from King only to be tickled in order to bring forth rich harvests. With the Black Sea closed gone far toward reconciling the Czar to and an uncertain way through the Dardanelles to the sea and with only a poor water way to the Baltic, Russia must have an outlet for her commerce of the future. She will go where she can or where she may. She will find her way to the Persian Gulf and, if necessary, though China and over the battlefields which she has so recently lost and upon which she has left her dead. The great empire by the frozen

"And while the Russians are getting ready the Japanese will grow more and more restive. Do you suppose Nogi's veterans, the men who followed wherever Oku led or the soldiers of the splendid army of the masterful Kuroki can forget, for instance, that they won by their valor all of Sakhalin Island, only to have their Emperor. the Elder Statesmen and the plenipotentiaries of peace give half of it back to the Russians whom they thrashed? Do you suppose that the men who fought with Togo will forget that the battleships which only escaped the merciless fire of their guns in a fog and found shelter in the harbor of Manila have been given back under the terms of peace to the Russians? The big white soldiers of Russia and the little brown men of Japan will come together again and the roll of the war drums will be heard in the East. Then will be fought to a finish that last final battle for supremacy, which, for the good of mankind and the welfare of Russia and Japan, should have been fought now by the armies of Oyama and Linievitch upon Russia's future government can be understood. Deep dissatisfaction continues in court circles over the position in which Russia finds herself.

Peace rejoicings are reported for all over the country. Flags are flying and there are illuminations in many places

A deputation of residents of Livonia called upon the Minister of the Interior called upon the Minister of the Interior to day and asked for the removal of martial troops and asked for the removal of martial troops and asked for the removal of martial troops and and Linievitch in northern Manchuria.

But however that may be, both the belligerents and the world in general are reckoning to-day in the East without China, with its militant millions, will be the power in the Orient. We can no longer speak of the rousing from the sleep of ages of China. She has already awakened, and yet the world knows little of it. On my trip home I met Dr. Tong, who has been sent by the Chinese Government to negotiate a new treaty with the United States. Italked to him of his country and his people, and even I, who know something of China (I have been there nine times) was amazed at the story he told. So amazed in fact.

Liondon, Sept. 2.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says that never, perhaps, in Russian history have the newspapers so boldly and clearly expressed the plain truths of the situation.

The palm belongs to the Slove, which, though a persistent advocate of peace, confesses that its gladness is damned by undying resentment that Russia has been brought so low that she should have to rejoice because she was not compelled to pay an indemnity. It adds:

"Can we ever forgive the régime which, since Aug. 19, has begun to recede into the shameful war and the wounds to national pride will never be effected. Fivery time they reopen we shall feel hatred snall be established in every district in China; that there shall be a high school in every prefecture, and that there shall be a college or university in every province. The teachers in these institutions shall be either Chinamen taught abroad or Americans or Europeans.

"But that is not all. From what Dr. Tong told me it looks very much as if China herself were preparing to take her part in the wars of the future. An army of 40,000 men is to be raised by order of the Empress in each of the twenty-three provinces of the empire, and these armies, also by imperial edict, are to be officered and drilled by Americans or Europeans, or by Chinamen, who have learned thoroughly, as the Japanese have learned, the best methods of the armies of the Western world.

"These things Dr. Tong told me, but it was not all, and in my opinion not the most interesting of all that he said. You rememner that following the Boxer rabellion in China the United States exacted from the china the chin China the United States exacted from the Chinese Government an indemnity of $2000,000. It has been proposed that we should return this indemnity to China. Dr. Tong spoke of this proposition and amazed me by saying that China would appreciate it if the United States did no such thing. On the contrary, he said, the thing which China would like best would be for the United States to invest that twenty millions of dollars in its own Government bonds and with the income provide scholarships at various American colleges and universities for the free education of Chinese students who in the years that are to come at various American colleges and universities for the free education of Chinese students who in the years that are to come shall be the soldiers and statesmen and tradesmen of China.

"If the Flowery Kingdom isn't already sitting up and taking notice, then I don't know what a real live wide awake one is."

Dr. Seaman was asked about the methods of the medical corps of the Japanese Army.

"Simply wonderful," he replied. "The Japanese medical corp is the greatest and best of any army in the world. The history of the world's wars shows that practically five soldiers have died of preventable disease where one has died from bullets. In the war of the rebellion about e02,000 lives were lost, and of this number 102,000 were killed on the firing line or died from the results of wounds. The balance died from disease, most cases of which could have been prevented with proper care.

"The surgeons of the Japanese Army received something more than a half million well their wither attention after the war well ries. The medical men directed their entire attention after the war began to keeping that army well. To accomplish this the army surgeons did that which had never before been heard of in any war of the world. They went forward with the first screen of scouts thrown out. They were away in advance of the main army. With lightninglike rapidity they examined every well and every stream of water over which the army would travel. Over one well they would place a placard with this legend: "This water must not be drunk except after boiling." Over another well they would place another placard which read: "This water must not be used for any purpose except for bathing."

"Except in battle the surgeon in the "Except in battle the great mogul. His Japanese Army is the great mogul. His orders are obeyed implicitly, and when a Japanese soldier is warned not to drink this or not to drink that he would no more think of disregarding the mandate of the army surgeon than he would think of dis-regarding the command of his General in Chief.

"The result was that the men who won the victories for Japan were as well nigh physically perfect as it was possible for men to be. It had to be so. Had the death rates in other wars prevailed in this one the Japanese Army would have been wiped out. Therefore, in the main, preventable disease was prevented and the soldiers of Japan, were not murdered in the cause of war."

GOV. M'LANE TAKES PEN IN HAND TO VINDICATE HIS STATE.

A Brewery Hasn't 'Anything to Do With the Entertainment of the Envoys, He Declares-The President Cannot Accept Invitation to Their Banquet. OTSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 1 .- President Roosevelt has received an invitation to attend a banquet somewhere in the White Mountains to be given in honor of the Russian and Japanese envoys in the near future by the State of New Hampshire. Senator Burnham of New Hampshire and George H. Moses, secretary to Gov. McLane, called upon the President to-day to discuss the matter, but the President has no intention of going at present. He said he intended to make no more trips this summer until he starts on his Southern trip on Oct. 1. The particular mission of Mr. Moses was o bring to the President a letter written by Gov. McLane to Assistant Secretary H. D. Peirce, showing exactly how the State of New Hampshire entertained the peace envoys. There is an indignant de-nial that the Wentworth extended courtesies to the envoys merely to advertise a certain brewery, and as to the prices, well, the Governor himself pays them, so what's he use of kicking.

The Governor's letter reads:

The Governor's letter reads:

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 30, 1905.

Hon. H. H. D. Peirce, Third Assistant Secretary of State, Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H.

My Dear Mr. Peirce: The article in a New York paper under date of Aug. 18 referring to the manner in which the Japan-Russia peace envoys are being entertained here is, 1 am glad to say, entirely untrue. The envoys are present in New Hampshire on the invitation of the Governor of the State, who tendered the hospitality of the Commonwealth at such place within our borders as best suited the envoys' convenience. The place chosen is Portsmouth, but had the choice fallen upon our most remote hamlet the entertainment would have been furnished in exactly the same manner. That is to say, our Legislature is not now in session and New Hampshire has not any contingent fund sufficient to meet an expense like that dependent upon the entertainment of the envoys.

Accordingly, before the invitation of New

Accordingly, before the invitation of New Hampshire was presented to the envoys I had the assurance of a few public spirited citizens that they would join with me in meeting the expense of the envoys' entertainment until such time as the Legislature could be asked to make the necessary appropriation for the purpose. It was in this way that the Kearsarge-Alabama celebration was financed at Portsmouth in 1900. It was in this way that we met the extraordinary expenditure for replacing of injured public works in the White Mountains last year. It was in this way we met the cost of dedicating the statue of John P. Hale which Senator Chandler presented to the State during a recess of the Legislature.

Among the men standing in the breach on the present occasion and on one other of those mentioned is Judge Calvin Page of. Portsmouth, who is one of the three trustees of the estate which owns the Hotel Wentworth property, and which has no business interest in any brewery property whatever, its holdings in the Frank Jones Brewing Company having been sold more than three years ago. So far as the envoys are themselves concerned, it is sufficient to say in reply to the allegations of the article in question that Baron Komura and Mr. Dennison have frequently personally expressed to me the Japanese appreciation of our hospitality, and that Mr. Willinken has repeatedly and effusively thanked my secretary for what he has been doing to make the Russian suite comfortable.

With relation to the complaint as to the rate charged at the Hotel Wentworth for lodging, board, meals, Ac., I can only say that the Accordingly, before the invitation of New with relation to the Wentworth for lodging, board, meals, &c., I can only say that the prices named are what I myself pay for my family, who have been spending the summer here. As an indication of the measure of reliance to be placed upon the article in question it is interesting to note that the correspondent described you as "a New Hampshire man." I wish that were true, but like the rest of the correspondent's assertions it is not. Very truly yours,

JOHN MCLANE,
Governor.

Both the Senator and Secretary Moses came away from Sagamore Hill feeling that the fair name of New Hampshire was

NO YELLOW FEVER IN HAVANA. Mobile's Threat of Quarantine Is Resented

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN HAVANA, Sept. 1.- The office of the Munon Steamship Line has received advices from Mobile that that city will quarantine against Havana. It is understood that the reason for this action is that a case of yellow fever developed on the last Southern Pacific steamer arriving at New Orleans from Havana.

Doctors here assert that even if the patient were suffering from yellow fever the disease did not originate here, as the victim is a member of the steamer's crew who was not ashore in Havana. He must therefore have contracted the disease before he left New Orleans. Dr. Findlay says there is no yellow fever in Havana, and there is no reason for quarantining against this city. It is thought that Mobile's quarantine against Havana is due partly to spite.

change of air and see what the jungles of Harlem are like. Earlier in the summer he had a sectional picnic in Jeanette Park, but that was a mere incident, pleasurable to the people who live on the borders of Dan Finn's realm. Yesterday's was the real event.

The plain people of the lower East Side began to arrive early in the afternoon mostly woman and children. They knew that Thomas Francis, who tore the crown from Paddy Divver's head in the sometime past, would provide a good time. The children monopolized the afternoon One woman brought eighteen of them and said they were all her own.

Young, counsel for Mrs. Lederer, moved yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Dugro to have Mr. Lederer punished for ontempt. It was the nineteenth effort Mrs. Lederer has made to have her husband committed.

In yesterday's proceedings Herbert R. Limberger, counsel for Mr. Lederer, opposing the motion, moved to set aside the divorce decree obtained last January by Mrs. Lederer. He made counter charges of wrongdoing on the part of Mrs. Lederer.

Mr. Limberger had this to say:
"The first intimation that Mr. Lederer had that his wife had been guilty of marital infidelity was when he received a letter in May of this year stating that Mrs. Lederer had been accustomed to meet a man in a flat in West Sixty-eighth street. I at once placed the matter in the hands of detectives for investigation, with the result that we definitely ascertained that Mrs. Lederer had been accustomed to meet that man and others at the flat, and on occasions to remain all night there.

"While several persons made these state ments to the detectives they all professed such friendship for Mrs. Lederer that they absolutely refused to made affidavits against her. Their statements, however, not only showed that Mrs. Lederer had been guilty of violating her marriage vows, but indicated that certain serious crimes had been com-

"I thereupon presented the entire matter

"I thereupon presented the entire matter to the District Attorney's office. A complaint was laid before a Magistrate and John Doe proceedings were instituted and are still pending. The result of the John Doe proceedings was that some of the witnesses who had up to that time out of friendship for Mrs. Lederer refused to make affidavits no longer hesitated.

"I have in my possession these affidavits, which will be presented to the court in a few days and as soon as we can get ready to move to vacate the present judgment. For that motion, however, I desire the testimony of every one conversant with the facts. Until yesterday the man and his wife refused to make sworn confessions as to Mrs. Lederer's relations with him.

"We have, however, convinced the man's wew formed and the woman says she was driven to the act. She is under arrest.

"We have, however, convinced the man's wife that it is her duty in this matter not to shield her husband, but to tell the truth, and I now present to your Honor an affidavit by the man's wife in which she sets forth how and under what circumstances she discovered that her husband had been untrue to her and suits you misconduct with Mrs. her and guilty of misconduct with Mrs.

Lederer.

"The man and the woman occupying the flat, although they have admitted everything to my detectives, still refuse to sign and I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and in three days my head was as clear as ever. I applied the Ointment night and morning, also taking a hot bath three times a week, and using the Ointment freely after the bath. After using one cake of Soap and two boxes o Ointment I was completely cured, without a mark on my head or body. I was so pleased I felt like taking my hat in my hand and running down the street to tell every one I met what Cuticura had done for me. I shall never use any other but Cuticura Soap. If any one is in doubt about this, they may write to me. (signed, H. B. Franklin, 717 Washington St., Allegheny, Pa.
